Definition

Intervention is the opportunity to intervene in children's learning to enable them to make the best possible progress.

It provides opportunities for additional targeted support beyond quality first teaching. Research shows that targeted interventions can have a significant impact on children's performance and self-confidence.

Waves of Intervention

Wave 1 – The effective inclusion of all children in high quality lessons (quality first teaching)

Wave 2 – Additional time limited provision in the form of small group intervention to accelerate progress and enable children to work at age related expectations.

Wave 3 – Additional time limited provision to enhance the progress of identified children where waves 1 and 2 are not, on their own, having the desired effect.

Children who are significantly below their age-related expectations or whose progress is significantly slower than their peers, despite having had intervention, may at this point be placed on the SEN register. More specialist support can then be identified.

Who will receive intervention?

Children will be identified through:

- Assessment data
- Day to day assessment opportunities

Intervention groups will be fluid and flexible, taking into account transitional, periodic and day to day teacher assessment.

When will intervention take place?

- Interventions will take place at many different times across the week but is 'in addition to' or 'above and beyond' the child's normal quality first teaching. It will be a time limited package that will be designed according to the needs of the child.

Successful Interventions will rely on –

- Providing quality first teaching for all
- Using data to identify children who are falling behind

- Identifying the barriers to progress (subject based or attitudes to learning)
- Effective collaboration between class teachers and the person delivering interventions
- Designing and delivering an additional tailored package of support which is time limited and measureable.
