Manor Park Primary School PSHE & Relationship Education Policy

Introduction

We have based our school's PSHE & Relationship and Sex Education policy on the DfE PSHE Education guidance (Updated 25th June 2019), DfE Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education draft guidance (February 2019). We have also based it upon guidance from the PSHE Association. The Government has committed to making the health education and relationships education/RSE aspects of PSHE compulsory from September 2020. This will help schools to fulfil their statutory responsibility to safeguard pupils, support their spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development and prepare them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of life.

In order to fulfil the statutory government requirements for PSHE and RSE Manor Park have, from September 2019, embedded a three pronged approach to prepare children for life in modern society, families and relationships, as well as equipping pupils with a sound understanding of risks, providing them with the knowledge and skills necessary to make safe and informed decisions. We will use the 1decision programme, which encompasses PSHE and RSE lessons, Rising Stars Online Safety resources and a range of books that focus on the Equality Act and diversity.

We believe that it is crucial to teach children effectively and clearly about relationship education, which ultimately works in conjunction with safeguarding and preparing children for living in the wider world. (See 'Keeping Children Safe in Education', Sept 2018)

Through our bespoke PSHE/RSE provision children will have lessons covering:

- Learning to be healthy – children will explore how to make positive choices and take sensible actions, how to protect their emotional, social and mental wellbeing, understand a range of feelings and how the choices they make now can have long-term consequences on their lifestyle.
- Learning to stay safe – children will explore how to identify and minimise risk, how to make informed, responsible and safe choices, how to voice their opinions and resist unhealthy peer pressure.
- Learning to enjoy and achieve – children will explore how to assess their skills, achievements and potential in order to set personal goals and achieve their best.

- Learning to make a positive contribution – children will explore the different roles that people play in a community and how they can contribute to their own school and the wider community.
- Learning to achieve economic wellbeing – children will explore the qualities and skills needed for adult working life.
- Learning to resist unhelpful peer pressure.
- Learning the importance of relationships to develop children's skills in order to identify different traits of healthy and unhealthy relationships, recognise appropriate and inappropriate touch, boundaries and consent.

The Equality Act 2010 states that it is against the law to discriminate against others. Using that as a basis, we aim to teach our children about difference, diversity and discrimination against:

- Age
- Disability
- Gender
- Marriage and civil partnership
- Race
- Religion or belief

Relationship & Sex Education

While we use sex education to inform children about sexual issues, we do this with regard to matters of morality and individual responsibility, and in a way that allows children to ask and explore moral questions. We do not use sex education as a means of promoting any form of sexual orientation.

Aims

- To promote pupils' self-esteem and confidence, especially in their relationships with others.

- To give accurate information about puberty, reproduction and contraception and to promote the skills to build positive personal relationships.
- To give students opportunities to explore and clarify some of their attitudes towards friendships, sexuality and gender.
- To encourage exploration of values and moral issues, hearing the points of view of others and respecting their own and other people's decisions, rights and bodies.
- To encourage the development of communication and decision making skills.
- To give students a chance to explore ideas about family, marriage, parenting and the ways in which people care for each other, and the benefits of stable relationships.
- To be responsive to differing needs and backgrounds.
- To prepare young people for transitions and later life.
- To liaise with parents/carers so that home and school can work in partnership.
- To generate an atmosphere of trust, where questions about reproduction and sexuality can be raised, and discussed without embarrassment.

Delivery

Reception

Children entering reception classes are beginning to take some responsibility for their activities and are starting to learn about decisions. Children will be encouraged to develop a sense of identity, positive relationships with other children and learn about their families and friendships. They will also be taught about kindness and respect towards one another.

Years 1 & 2

Year 1 will be building on the topics taught in Reception by looking at how their bodies change and how they change as a person as they continue to grow. They are taught the names of non-sexual body parts and celebrate their uniqueness and individuality as a person.

Within other topics the children are encouraged to develop an understanding of the needs of the human body and to create an awareness of healthy lifestyles, for example, diet and regular exercise.

Year 2 continue to build on this knowledge by introducing the children to the correct terminology to body parts and looking at the similarities and differences between girls and boys body parts. They will also be looking at different lifecycles and the difference between things that are living and things that are not. Children will be taught about respecting personal space and boundaries, as well as inappropriate touch. Children will be taught about coping with emotions such as jealousy.

Years 3 & 4

In Year 3 the focus is primarily on growing older and what the expectations are of them as an aging person. This will include looking at the responsibilities of the children as they mature, discussing their future and what they would like to happen and focusing on the emotional changes they think are involved in growing older. Children will be taught about coping with emotions such as anger and grief.

Year 4 children will continue to build on this by looking at relationships and early puberty. They will also be learning about the changes that happen to a boy and girl and how different relationships can have an effect on their emotions and feelings towards others.

Years 5 & 6

Children will continue to discuss puberty for both boys and girls and what changes will happen to their body, as well as looking at how hormones can affect our mood. Children will discuss what family means and how families can change. They will explore different kinds of relationships and family structures. The subject of periods and wet dreams will be talked about with both boys and girls.

Year 6 continues to build on the children's prior learning of puberty in more detail and the effects of puberty on both boys and girls. The children will also look at how the subject of relationships and love is portrayed by the media, the concept of marriage, stable relationships, partnerships, the importance of family life. Children in Year 6 will be taught about conception, contraception, pregnancy and different ways to conceive or become a parent.

Pupils will receive information from the School Nurse. The nurse will work with the children and teachers to support the progressive teaching of Relationship and Sex Education.

Confidentiality

In accordance with the DCfS 'Sex and Relationship Education Guidance' and the school's child protection and safeguarding policy we will:

- ensure that all staff, pupils and parents/carers are aware of our policy on confidentiality, how it works in practice and understand individual rights to confidentiality.
- ensure that pupils are informed of the limits of confidentiality that may be offered by staff.
- use ground rules in lessons including the limits of confidentiality.

- ensure that pupils are informed of sources of confidential support, for example, the school nurse, GP or local young person's advice service.
- encourage pupils to talk to their parents or carers and give them support to do so.

Support

For girls reaching puberty at primary age support, guidance and help is available in school. Staff will endeavour to deal with these matters sensitively. Pupils who require this support will know whom to approach for help. Class teachers of pupils in Years 5 and 6 should make sure that the children are aware that they can approach any member of staff, including learning mentors, if they have particular concerns, issues or needs. Teachers will use language with care in their presentations and discussions to avoid misunderstandings.

Organisation

We will teach relationship and sex education through different aspects of the curriculum. While we carry out the main sex education teaching in our personal, social and health education (PSHE) curriculum, we also teach some sex education through other subject areas (e.g. science), where we feel that they contribute significantly to a child's knowledge and understanding of his or her own body, and how it is changing and developing.

Sex Education lessons will take place at the same time across the whole school and will be taught by the class teacher. There may be times when it will be necessary and appropriate to teach the year groups in same sex sessions where necessary. A range of resources will be used through the 1decision programme and appropriate books will be available in the school.

Special Needs

Children identified as having special needs are often the most vulnerable members of society. They may have a range of educational needs, abilities and personal and social characteristics. These may have direct implications on the management and organisation of sex education. A variety of approaches will encompass:

- an awareness of self and others
- developing a positive self-image
- the ability to make informed decisions.

The role of parents

The school is well aware that the primary role in children's sex and relationship education lies with parents and carers. We wish to build a positive and supporting relationship with the parents of children at our school through mutual understanding, trust and cooperation. In promoting this objective, we:

- inform parents about the school's sex education policy and practice through an arranged meeting where all resources can be viewed
- answer any questions that parents may have about the sex education of their child
- take seriously any issue that parents raise with teachers or governors about this policy or the arrangements for sex education in the school
- inform parents about the best known practice with regard to sex education, so that the teaching in school supports the key messages that parents and carers give to children at home.

We believe that, through this mutual exchange of knowledge and information, children will benefit from being given consistent messages about their changing body and their increasing responsibilities.

According to the government, parents have the right to withdraw their child from all of the sex education programme but it is a statutory requirement that all children receive relationship education. If a parent wishes their child to be withdrawn from sex education lessons, they should discuss this with the Headteacher and make it clear which aspects of the programme they do not wish their child to participate in. The school always complies with the wishes of parents in this regard.

The role of other members of the community

We encourage other valued members of the community to work with us to provide advice and support to the children with regard to health education. In particular, members of the Local Health Authority, such as the school nurse and other health professionals, give us valuable support with our sex education programme.

Curriculum

The sex education programme will provide information that is relevant and appropriate to the age and maturity of the pupils. Sex education will be taught in the context of relationships, particularly family relationships. The programme will include the development of communication and social skills, as well as attitudes and values.

This policy will be reviewed July 2021.
